Convenience reinvented

Description

Our training centre is located at 68 King William Street. It is one of the most convenient training venues in the City of London. Located right at the exit of Monument station and overlooking London Bridge, it is close to all major transport links. The building is situated in an area where business, culture, shopping and leisure come together.

Our modern centre is equipped with 20 high standard training rooms and a lounge area ideal for breaks which is also the perfect place to network professionally. This environment makes the classes even more enjoyable.
